

Garmin Announces Additional Training Webinars

Take Advantage of Pilot Training Webinars Throughout Spring

Garmin is pleased to announce free web-based training has been scheduled now through 28th May for our customers. The topics and times have been expanded to cover a large range of convenient time zones for our customers across the globe. Pilot training webinars are perfect for those that want to learn more about flying with Garmin products. Maybe those who recently completed a new install, and even with a new installation underway, these training webinars give all customers an in-depth look into the operation of their avionics.

We strongly urge you to follow the WHO and local government regulations concerning social distancing, so please share these training links with your friends, and other Garmin users who you feel would benefit from the topics below – GoToWebinar can be accessed via computer, iPhone, or iPad.
